Of patron intimidation

Superintendent denies complaints

By RICH ADAMS

Bay Schools Superintendent J. D. McCullough's denial of allegations that he threatened and intimidated school patrons appears in a deposition filed Friday with U. S. District Court in Biloxi.

McCullough and the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Board are defendants in a $20,000 damage suit which claims that the alleged instances of intimidation constitutes a violation of the patron's civil rights.

Depositions given by McCullough, School Board President Virginia Gex, and Board Member Walter Turcotte were received by the court clerk Friday afternoon.

The suit was brought by North Bay Elementary Parent-Teacher Organization; Bay St. Louis Local, American Federation of Teachers; and several individual school patrons who claim the board and McCullough have deprived them and their organizations of certain civil rights.

The plaintiffs are requesting $20,000 from the defendants in punitive and actual damages, and are also seeking to prove the board's controversial Policy 18 on non-recognition of groups as unconstitutional.

The depositions filed Friday were taken in the Hancock County Youth Court Building and the conference room at Bay St. Louis Senior High School on Aug. 14 and 15.

During questioning by the plaintiff's attorney, Gerald Blessey of Gulfport, McCullough refuted many of the allegations in the plaintiffs' original complaint.

One of the issues in the case involves a controversial documents reproduction policy adopted by the board in July, 1979, which requires any patron of the school district desiring copies of school

Council asks long-term engineer planning

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay Council Tuesday requested a more detailed study of the proposed sewer lines being installed by a developer on Union Street from James J. Chiniche, engineer.

Councilman Fred Wagner emphasized that the Council wanted to know if further development north of the project on Union Street could be handled by the proposed sewer line.

Council authorized Chiniche an additional three hours in addition to the previous three hours for the study of the sewer plans by the developer.

"We do not want something done where later on we are told if only $500 more or so had been spent originally on the sewer line it could have been ample and the whole job would not have to be torn up and done over, to cover future growth on the street," Wagner told Chiniche.

When the authorization for the initial study was requested of Chiniche he wasn't at the Council meeting last month and told the members he did not know how extensive they wanted him to report on the sewer line.

Ansley Road crash injures Lakeshore man

By EDGAR PEREZ

A Lakeshore man who suffered a fractured sternum in a two-car collision on Ansley Road Tuesday was reported in stable condition Wednesday by a spokesman for Hancock General Hospital.

Pat Williams was transferred to Gulfport Memorial Hospital after initial treatment at Hancock General where he was transported by Mobile Medic following the 5:20 p.m. Tuesday accident, according to the Hancock County Sheriff's Department.

Williams was traveling east on Ansley road when a car driven by Nicholas S. Schwartz Jr., 33, also of Lakeshore, attempted a left turn into the path of Williams' vehicle, Sheriff Ronnie Peterson reported.

The accident occurred near Ladner's Friendly Inn on the Ansley Road, deputies reported.

Schwartz was charged with driving under the influence and failure to yield right of way, according to investigating officer Deputy Ronald Cuevas.

CAMPAIGN PROMISE FULFILLED - Sheriff Ronnie Peterson, left, explains entries in the county jail record book Wednesday to Ellis Cuevas, center, and Rich Adams, publisher and reporter, respectively, for the Sea Coast Echo. During his successful campaign for sheriff last year, Peterson promised to make public those sheriff's department records which are spelled out by law to be public information. The jail book includes a listing of persons charged at the jail by the sheriff's department, Mississippi Highway Patrol, Bay St. Louis and Waveland City Police Departments and other law enforcement agencies in Hancock County. Andrew Lizana is fire chief

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Andrew Lizana, Bay St. Louis native, was named fire chief Wednesday night unanimously upon recommendation by Mayor Larry Bennett.

Lizana replaces Richard Fayard who resigned on Dec. 31 to become fire chief at National Space Technology Laboratories in Hancock County.

An assistant fire chief for 4½ years, Lizana joined the fire department as a regular fireman on May 30, 1972 during the administration of Mayor Warren

Solons confirm beach road aid

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock County's plea for monies from Federal Highway Administration emergency funds has been approved according to Wednesday from United States Senator John C. Stennis and U.S. Congressman Trent Lott.

A.A. (Dolph) Kellar county supervisors president, first received a call from Lott advising that the Federal Highway Administration in Washington has approved $800,000 emergency funding for road and bridge repairs in Hancock, Harrison and Jackson Counties for damages caused by Hurricane Frederic.

A short while later, Kellar received a call from Stennis who said, "The Federal Highway Administration has approved beach road repairs in Hancock County with the amount dependent on the need."

Kellar said, "I sure hope the information is correct because we have received approval several times before, only to be told a few days later that the funds for the repairs have been denied."

Emery Shaw, Federal Highway Administration director in Jackson, said late Wednesday he had received word via telephone that Hancock County's request for emergency funds has been approved.

"No mention was made to my office of any amount and I think the amounts mentioned by Congressman Lott are for programming," Shaw added.

"Our estimate on the amount of damage in Hancock were not quite as high as those of engineer Larry Seal. If we under estimated the costs, when we get the final estimates we will get the funds," Shaw said.

Shaw stated, "The monies from the Federal Highway Administration will be used for highways only, so there really isn't going to be very much in Harrison and Jackson Counties as other funds are being spent in addition to these funds."

Buddy Bynum, Lott's press secretary, said Shaw would be the person to allocate the funds in each county, to which Shaw agreed.

An estimate of $790,000 had been submitted by Larry Seal, county engineer, for the Federal Highway Administration assistance.

Kellar said, "It has been an uphill battle all along for funds to repair the beach road. Many thousands of dollars have already been spent from various funds in Harrison and Jackson Counties. I do realize that there has been heavy damages in those two counties."

Kellar continued saying, "We have had only a few thousand dollars in aid in Hancock County. I am trying to reach our engineer Larry Seal to have him contact Mr. Shaw in Jackson."

The Federal Highway director commented, "The scope of the work is up to our office. It will be a couple of days before my office receives word in writing, and at that time I will be able to see if the monies allocated match the requests or the needs."

Shaw said his office is now in a position to get with Seal.

Bynum and Kellar said Lott would continue working on Coastal Energy Impact Program funds for Hancock.

Kellar reported these funds would be used for the sand berm which serves as a protection for the road, and are in hopes of receiving some funds from this program this year.

County as well as Bay St. Louis and Waveland officials called on Stennis and Senator Thad Cochran, as well as Lott for assistance for the beach road last June after being advised no funds were available for Hancock.

The money will be spent to repair and restore the road to the condition prior to the storm.

The majority of damages in Hancock County extend from the western tip of Waveland's Beach to Bayou Cadet.

Supervisors question school board contract

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

"I did not ask Terry Randolph to be 16th Section land consultant and did not know the school board was going to contract him," stated Billy D. Sills, Hancock County's superintendent of education.

"The school board's hiring of Randolph was an independent action and I would not have recommended him to be hired," Sills added.

Sills' comments came after the regular monthly meeting of the County School Board Monday night where Randolph's contract was questioned by a member of the audience.

The then-superintendent Randolph did contact Sills at his home by phone 7 p.m. Dec. 28, when Randolph was contracted but, called to ask his opinion regarding the resignation of Gulfview Principal William Haddock.

"He did not inform me that Haddock

Joiner takes commissioner's oath

Mississippi's three state highway commissioners were officially sworn in Monday at 10 a.m. in the Woolfolk State Office Building by Judge Francis Bowling of the Mississippi Supreme Court.

Northern District Highway Commissioner Bobby G. Richardson, Central District Highway Commissioner Sam W. Waggoner, and Southern District Highway Commissioner Robert "Bob" Joiner took the oath of office.

Joiner took the oath of office which officially begins their four-year term of office as commissioners of the Mississippi State Highway Department.

The three-man commission is responsible for the construction and maintenance of the designated state highway system.

Richardson, a Starkville native, is entering his second term of office. He received his civil engineering degree from Mississippi State University 1962 and began a long-term association with the Mississippi State Highway Department.

Formerly serving as mayor of Waynesboro, Robert E. Joiner enters his first term of office as highway commissioner for the Southern District.

He attended University of Mississippi and is president and chairman of the board of Joiner Insurance Agency, Inc.

had been offered a position at Bay Junior High School or that the board was considering Randolph as a 16th Section land consultant," Sills said.

Randolph said Wednesday, "The board had already hired me as consultant by that time and we were more concerned with the Gulfview principal's situation."

"Sills stated on Dec. 23, that he was for it (a 16th Section consultant) and that it would sure take a load off of me (Sills)," Randolph stated.

"I had indications on Dec. 23 that he (Sills) didn't object to me going into business with the school board, so he would have more time for the educational process," Randolph added.

"Louie and Woodrow Ladner (school board members) had previously been in conversation with Mr. Sills concerning this position and that from my understanding Mr. Louie had talked to him about it but Mr. Sills was not in disagreement... and to this day I do not know that Mr. Sills disagrees," Randolph said.

Sills denies that he endorsed Randolph's proposal for Hancock County and said, "Woodrow Ladner has never talked to me about this matter and Louie Ladner had mentioned something general about Randolph's business at a ball game but he was not specific as to his intent to work for Hancock County."

Joseph Gex, school board attorney, will seek an attorney general's opinion on legality of Randolph's entering into a contract with the school board while still superintendent.

Woodrow Ladner, school board president, said, "Randolph was hired because the board was under the impression that we're the ones responsible for 16th Section land by statute and the authority to enter into the contract with Randolph is vested in the power of the school board."

"But there are very few people in this state as knowledgeable as Mr. Randolph. If we acted illegally we will correct our action. If we did, it was because we believed it would be beneficial to the schools, the county and the children," Ladner explained.

Ladner feels hiring Randolph releases Sills from the responsibility of administering 16th Section lands so Sills can devote more time to the educational process.

At the school board meeting, Randolph distributed copies of a Dec. 28 letter from John Ed Ainsworth, former state land commissioner, praising Randolph's 16th Section land management abilities and that Randolph had assisted in drafting 16th Section reform legislation.

In reference to the County Board of Supervisors meeting with Sills Monday to discuss Randolph's contract, the former school superintendent said, "I was disturbed with the actions of the board of supervisors because of their meddling in someone else's business, or I should say another governmental body's business."

"The board of supervisors doesn't have any authority over action of the school board pertaining to employment, salary or anything pertaining to 16th Section lands with the exception of vetoing a lease because of the amount," Randolph explained.

In other business Monday, the board: —Accepted six bids for oil and gas leases on six parcels of school board land totalling $105,702. Five of the leases, totalling $70,500, are with Amerada Hess of Tulsa, Okla. and one lease with Phillip Poitevin of Jackson for $35,202;

—Instructed Sills to contact Pass Christian Superintendent Leroy Lizama to check the certification of teachers at the school for the deaf in DeLisle and to report his findings to the board and June Ladner, wife of board member Oris Ladner and mother of a deaf child.

Mrs. Ladner appeared before the board complaining that teachers at the facility are not properly certified.

Hancock, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian and Long Beach school systems all contribute to the maintenance and operation of the facility, according to Sills.

—Approved the purchase of an IBM Selectmatic typewriter for Coordinator Harlin Hill costing $545;

—Approved an annual candy selling project of the fifth and sixth grade Pee Wee cheerleaders at Hancock North Central for expenses incurred by the squad;

—Approved hiring Patricia Arcement as elementary teacher at North Central Elementary for the remainder of the 1979-80 school year. Arcement replaced Janice Lee, who recently resigned.

—Approved the temporary employment of Sylvia Nunn, for two-three weeks, as elementary office secretary at North Central due to illness of present secretary;

—Approved superintendent's recommendation of central office personnel. Sills will retain all four present employees in their same positions. They are Sue Dean, secretary; Brenda Ladner, head bookkeeper; Lori Carver, bookkeeper; and Reha Scaffidi, clerk-typist;

Sills will write the attorney general and get a full set of the Mississippi Code of 1972 at his expense.

Real Estate

BY GAIL PRESSMAN, GRI

REALTOR

A BETTER BUY

Sure mortgage interest rates are higher than they were, but so are the market values of homes and land. Please believe me when I say that even at today's inflated prices and interest rates, real estate is a better buy than anything else you can go after with borrowed dollars.

Financing for other purchases often costs twice as much and these things depreciate while a house usually grows in value. Check the trade-in value of your car when you turn it in for a new one. Also for the past ten years, real estate values have doubled the increase in the Dow Jones average.

In this sense, real estate is the most worthwhile investment you can make, and your best protection against inflation. And don't forget the priceless dividends your family will enjoy as you live in your investment.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at PRESSMAN REALTY, 1332 Hwy. 90 W., Waveland. Phone 467-2224. We're here to help!

MISSISSIPPI WEEKLY WEATHER & CROP REPORT

FARM NUMBERS Number of Mississippi Farms and Land In Farms Continue Decline

The number of operating farms in Mississippi with annual sales of agricultural products of $1,000 or more during 1979 was estimated at 52,000 according to the Mississippi Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is 9 percent below the number operating in 1978. Preliminary estimates for 1980 indicate that 48,000 farms will be in operation in the state.

The total land in farms is expected to be 14.5 million acres in 1980, 200,000 acres less than 1979.

The average size of farm in 1979 for Mississippi was 283 acres.

U. S. Farm Numbers Continue Downward Trend

Farms in the United States numbered 2.33 million during 1979, a decrease of 1.6 percent from 1978. The preliminary estimate for 1980 indicates 2.31 million farms will be in operation. These reductions continue the downward trend of recent years.

Total land in farms, estimated at 1,049 million acres for 1979, was down slightly from the 1,052 million acres estimated for 1978. The 1980 preliminary estimate of land in farms is 1,047 million acres.

Estimates in this publication continue the series of estimates of number of farms and land in farm based on the new definition of a farm used since 1975. Under this definition, a farm is defined as any place which had annual sales of agricultural products of $1,000 or more. This definition is also being used by the Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, for the 1978 Census of Agriculture.

Bits-N-Pieces

By Ellis Cuevas

It was good to see so many folks at the Hancock County Courthouse Monday for the swearing-in ceremonies of our officials.

The political leaders, the re-elected ones as well as the new officials, were very happy to see so many in the courthouse when the Honorable Ruble Griffin gave the oath of office.

We congratulate each elected official and hope the next four years will be good ones for them.

Those who failed to be re-elected or did not seek re-election, we wish you luck in your future ventures.

When one is traveling throughout neighboring states, many times you see signs saying welcome to such and such a place.

However, one never knows whether he is in Bay St. Louis or Waveland as there are no signs telling you just what city you are entering.

We feel there should be at least a sign on Beach Boulevard, Central Avenue, Old Spanish Trail, and US-90 saying you are entering Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

We hope such designations will come into being in 1980.

It was good to hear Honorable Senator John C. Stennis put emphasis on the need for military build up in the American Forces.

We have been letting our military power kind of 'go down the drain' during the past few years.

This is a get-tough world, and in order to survive, the United States has to be as strong as any other Nation in the world.

We wish to congratulate Bay St. Louis' new fire chief, Andrew Lizana.

Having attended numerous fire fighting schools and emergency first aid courses, we feel he is very qualified for the promotion from assistant chief.

We wish our longtime friend Richard Fayard, former fire chief, a lot of success in his new job at the Test Site.

FUEL SAVER—Carl Smith has found a way to save gas on his tricycle. The unique thing of course, is the fact that Mr. Smith celebrated his 93rd birthday several months ago and is still an employee of American National Insurance Company. He and his wife reside on Uman Avenue, Bay St. Louis and are active in the community. Mr. Smith used a bicycle for making insurance calls in the 1940's when there was also a gas shortage. An active member of the Bay St. Louis Rotary, Mr. Smith was awarded a Paul Harris Fellowship and has served 25 years as secretary and treasurer.

GIVES TO UNITED WAY—Lonnie Clayborn, left, manager of Sears Catalog Sales, presents corporate gift to Mike Benvenuti, United Way Chairman. Sears was one of many corporations, businesses, organizations and individuals helping the Hancock County United Way reach its goal of $35,000 during the 1979 campaign. The gifts received during 1979 will enable the local United Way to continue support of Senior Citizens programs, Retired Senior Volunteer Program, Hancock County Emergency Relief Fund, American Red Cross-Hancock Chapter, Gulf Coast Mental Health, Catholic Social Services, Girls Scouts-Gulf Pines Council, Boy Scouts-Cypress District, Hancock County Blood Bank, Goodwill Industries, Firemen's Doll and Toy Fund and the U.S.O. worldwide. Benvenuti extends a 'sincere thank you' to each and everyone who made the United Way Campaign of 1979 a success. (Staff photo-Ellis Cuevas)

Supervisors approve $712,400 proposal

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Following recommendations by the State Highway Department's State Aid Division, Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday unanimously approved a road resurfacing and widening proposal totalling $712,400.

County Engineer Lawrence Seals presented the proposal at a regular monthly meeting of the supervisors Monday morning, stating, "These roads are badly deteriorated. If these roads go through another winter like they are, they won't last another year."

Roads included in the state aid project estimate are some two miles of Blue Meadow Road for $106,700; six miles of the Standard Dedeaux Road estimated at $358,700; three miles of Lower Bay Road (from US-90 to Port Bienville Industrial Park's entrance) for $155,000; and a supplemental agreement totalling $92,000 for continuing work on Preacher Powell Road.

"The estimated costs include widening the 18 foot roads to 21 feet, middle and edge striping, engineering fees and testing," Seals said.

"The 18 foot wide pavement is dangerous, it does not have a proper base and sealing will not correct the situation," Seals stated.

"There is $1.4 million in available funds so, with $603,000 for the Firetower Road project and $92,000 for Preacher Powell Road you can spend about $750,000 on these projects," Seals explained.

"The estimates always run 15-18 percent over projected cost. I'm afraid that our existing projects will be cut out if we run short on these funds," Board President Dolph Kellar said.

"I will execute a supplemental agreement," Seals stated.

"I estimate that we will have about seven percent left," Supervisor James Travira said.

"We have three roads here that will be a new project if not repaired now," Supervisor Bert Courge added.

The board approved the county engineer's state aid report authorizing funds for the road improvement projects.

Seals also reported that 80 percent of last year's state aid road projects were accepted and informed the board that there would be a county-wide road restriping program.

In other business the board: Re-elected a supervisor's $800 annual salary increase authorized in December and reintroduced the increase for January. The pay increase, based on the county's assessed valuation, increases county supervisor's annual salary from $13,000 to $13,800.

Re-elected Kellar as board president and elected Travira vice president;

Approved the monthly docket;

Approved a bid from Lola S. Ladner for feeding county prisoners at $1.50 a meal from Jan. 7, 1980 to Dec. 31, 1980. A lower bid for $1.40 from Karl Kibo was received but the higher bid was accepted on recommendation of Sheriff Ronald Peterson;

Approved advertisement requesting bids for two new patrol cars for the sheriff's department as requested by Peterson. Board also requested the sheriff to rework his budget to adjust capital outlay considering regular purchase of new vehicles.

Approved a request by Supervisor Sam Perniciaro for the board's attorney to write a letter to Highway Commissioner Bob Joiner in reference to the four-laning of Hwy. 603;

Approved Hancock Bank, Gulf National Bank, Security Savings and Loan Co., and Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association as depositories for county funds;

Approved surety bonds for county officials;

Approved a Sea Coast Echo bid for legal advertisements at $100 per insertion of monthly proceedings and six cents a word, first insertion, and three cents thereafter on other legal advertisements;

Approved a notary bond for Mary Billiot;

Approved corrections in property assessments;

Appointed Sonny Bailey to the Mosquito Control Commission.

Section land consultant for Hancock County.

The County Board of Supervisors contacted Silis Monday afternoon, five hours after county inauguration ceremonies, requesting his immediate appearance during their regular monthly meeting to discuss the legality of such a move by the school board.

"I was not notified of the December 28 school board meeting in which Randolph was contracted as 16th Section land consultant and was not consulted by the board about this matter," Silis told the supervisors.

"I want an attorney general's opinion on this 16th Section coordinator," Supervisor Bert Courge said.

"My attorney has already been directed to ask the attorney general's opinion," Silis replied.

"If a supervisor goes out of office he can't sell anything to the county or work for the county for at least one year by law. Now, wouldn't this apply to the superintendent," Supervisor Sam Perniciaro inquired?

"I'm assuming it does," Silis replied.

"Randolph was hired on a one year contract for $15,000 a year by the school board and Randolph told me he wants to be a private consultant to manage 16th Section lands in Harrison and Jackson Counties also," Silis added.

Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise offered a similar explanation of Randolph's business activities before Silis appeared at the supervisors meeting.

Board of Supervisor's President Dolph Kellar commented, "To me, I can't see hiring a man and paying that kind of salary, when the land he'll be managing doesn't even bring in $15,000 in revenues to Hancock County."

Silis agreed and added, "The county school system derives its largest revenues from gas and oil leases."

Industrial Park lots asking price increased

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors Monday authorized an increase in the asking price for lots in the county's Port Bienville Industrial Park near Pearllington.

Wilson Webre, County Port and Harbor Commission director presented a resolution at Monday's board meeting from the port group requesting the offering price of waterfront lots be increased from $6,000 to $10,000; waterfront secondary lot prices be raised from $4,000 to $6,000; and non-water lots be increased from $3,000 to $4,200.

"The waterfront lots have 98 feet frontage, waterfront secondary property is located 1000 feet from waterways and non-water lots have roadway access with no rail or waterway influence," Webre explained.

"There is no way we can relieve the indebtedness of the property without an increase in the asking price of these lots," Webre explained.

"I don't see why it should be a matter of public record," Supervisor James Travira said.

"This resolution requests a 25 percent increase in the asking price which is in keeping with the prices for lots in other industrial parks," Webre stated.

The board approved the commission's move.

In other business the board adopted a resolution declaring the intent of the county to comply with Chapter 492, Laws of 1979 regarding Coastal Zone Management (CZM).

"The intent and purpose of the interagency agreement, recently adopted and amended, has been called into question by the attorney general. We must state it is not our purpose to invalidate the interagency agreement," Webre said.

"The resolution will define and endorse the Port and Harbor Commission's action," explained Victor Frankiewicz of the Bureau of Marine Resources.

The board approved a resolution drafted by Frankiewicz and another resolution which removed a section of the interagency agreement which dealt with the rate of legislation.

The board endorsed another resolution by the port commission recommending an alternate site for wetlands conversion and authorized Webre to coordinate the matter with the proper agencies.

"We will convert six acres of highlands to wetlands for a trade of six acres in the Steve Knight tract. What it amounts to is we will dig a hole here and put spoils here," Webre explained.

Webre added, "Steve Knight will look at the withdrawal of his dredging permit and work with the site as is."

Approved Kellar's appointment of Delmer Wilcox to the Park Commission;

Approved Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner's appointments of Hilda Bourg to the Park Commission and Victor Frankiewicz to the County Port and Harbor Commission; Carver.

He was a volunteer fireman before becoming a regular firefighter.

The new fire chief attended numerous Mississippi State Fire Fighting Schools which included instruction in chemistry of fire cause, LP gas, oil fires, hazardous materials, pumping operator, fire investigation, railway emergency, arson investigation, and control of structural burning at state, regional and local seminars.

Lizana completed an 81-hour emergency medical technician course at Pearl River Junior College; Louisiana Heart Association closed chest cardiopulmonary resuscitation, medical self help, emergency first aid through American Red Cross, advanced first aid and emergency care, and also CPR instructor at the Mississippi State Fire Fighting School in addition to fire fighting schooling.

Mayor Bennett said in his recommendation to the Bay Council that Lizana is "very qualified" for the new position.

It had been normal policy for the Council to appoint department head positions on a trial basis, but was not the case with the new fire chief.

A graduate of St. Rose DeLima High School, he coached basketball and softball at the school for several years, and has been an employee of St. Augustine Seminary.

Lizana said Wednesday night, "I am happy to receive the position of fire chief, and I realize that there is a lot of work which has to be done."

"The Department is now short two firemen and I am interviewing prospects. The new men as well as those already in the department will be required to attend fire training schools."

A lot of the regulars have had training, but it always helps to go over procedures which change from time to time with new equipment, etc," Lizana said.

As to an assistant fire chief, Lizana

How much would it cost to rebuild your home today if it were destroyed by fire? Or to repair parts damaged by a storm? Or to replace valuables if your home is burglarized?

Would you have enough insurance to cover such losses? In these days of runaway inflation, your insurance coverage could be left far behind the spiraling costs of just about everything.

The insurance professionals at Hancock Insurance Agency can help you estimate the current replacement value of your home and expand your policy limits to keep your protection in step with your property's increasing value.

Strike back at inflation! Call us today for a policy update.

HNC defeats Harrison

The Hancock North Central Hawks defeated Harrison Central in cage action Saturday as they came from behind with the fine shooting abilities of Moses Hill, Steve Nunn, and Byron Ladner to win, 53-51.

Hill led the Hawks in scoring, netting a total of 12 points during the game.

He was followed in scoring by Barry Arcement with 11, Nunn with 12, and Zachary Ladner with 8.

Dal Freerick was leading netter for the Harrison Central hardcourtiers with 23 points.

The Hawks trailed 31-23 at halftime but picked up in the third period to come within one point in a 40-39 end of the quarter score.

Late in the game Ladner hit many outside shots, combining with Nunn and Arcement, who netted many a clutch free throw, giving the Hawks the victory.

Kiln Council plans free-throw tourney

Father A.C. Denis Council No. 7087, Kiln Knights of Columbus, is sponsoring local basketball free throw championships for boys and girls 11 through 14 years of age.

The council-area event is a preliminary to district, state and national championships. Richard Hoda, council spokesman, said the local championship will be staged beginning 10 a.m. Saturday at Annunciation School.

Trophies will be awarded to winners in the four age groups - 11, 12, 13, and 14 years.

Championship entry applications will be available on the school grounds Saturday morning, Hoda said.

Hancock Women tell standings

Homesteaders still lead the Hancock Women Bowling League by a hair. They have first place by total pins, but tied in games with Anything Goes in second and also tied with Good Times in third. Shears Delight got knocked down to fourth with all the other teams in same position.

Irma Hargis on team No. 7, shot a nice 199 and how about Carolyn Stringer on team No. 1 with a 487 series.

Congratulations to Dianne Schwartz shooting a 141 with an 81 average. Merline Mitchell holds highest game so far with a 223 along with Darlene Storey's highest series of 544.

Helen Carter is standing on her 273 handicap game with Darlene Storey again capturing high handicap series with a 688. The Christmas Party was a huge success! All teams brought scrumptious food ranging from cakes, pies, cookies, meats, potato salad, fried chicken; and many more.

Congratulations goes to the Goo-Offs who very excitedly won the $50.00 Christmas Tree. It is our practice every year to collect all Christmas presents and no one is allowed to choose until she makes a strike.

Needless to say, sometimes that takes quite a while when one is trying so hard to get first pick.

But, all in all, everyone seemed to have a great time. Many thanks to all of Hancock Women for such a fantastic party.

Toney Penna

The putter is one of the most important clubs in your golf bag. Maybe the most important. Because putting decides more golf matches than any other stroke in the game.

So select your putter carefully and personally.

Most pro shops will let you try various putters before you buy one. That's the way to go about it: play a round or two with one after another until you find the putter that looks just right and, especially, feels just right.

There are three basic styles. The center-shafted putter. The mallet. And the blade putter.

USGA rules governing putters require that the angle between shaft and the lie of the club be no more than 80°. But the shaft may be offset so the golfer's hands are ahead of or behind the clubface. And the sky's the limit regarding the material your putter may be made of...steel, brass, or what-have-you.

Remember the saying, "You drive for show...putt for dough." So select your putter very carefully!

Army Reserve Readiness-- What It's All About

A Reserve armor unit receives ammunition at a supply point prior to moving to the firing line during annual training.

The concept of a "Ready Reserve" force as part of the Nation's defense structure has been getting a lot of notice lately. However, many people still may not understand how the Reserve fits into overall defense strategy.

Actually, the status of the Reserve is not hard to grasp. After the Viet Nam conflict, the large standing Army was reduced with the defense obligations of many inactivated units taken up by the Reserve Components. The Reserve Components of the Army are the Army National Guard and Army Reserve. The maintenance of these Reserve units is much less costly than that of comparable full-time active units. And with monthly training, their readiness can be maintained at acceptable levels.

How does this affect the defense of the United States?

Should a full mobilization take place, there will be heavy dependence on the Reserve Components. The Reserve currently contributes more than half of the total force structure...that is, more than 50 percent of the armor, artillery, infantry and combat engineers.

Army aviation assets, as well as special forces groups, combat support and medical units are also largely in the Reserve at present. In fact, more than 65 percent of the total tactical support in the Army is in the Reserve Components and as much as 66 percent of the tactical medical support must be provided by Reserve units.

It has been estimated that, under the present makeup, the Army simply could not win a full scale conflict. Without the Reserve. With the thought in mind, it becomes obvious that the role of the Reserve is a key factor in our defense. Its readiness is absolutely necessary for the continued security of the country.

New admission standards approved for state-operated universities

New admission standards for Mississippi's eight state-supported universities have been approved by the College Board. The new standards will become effective with the summer term of 1980.

In addition to general admission standards, new regulations have been set for first-time entering freshmen foreign students. In addition to the Board's requirement for foreign students of a composite score of 20 on the ACT (American College Test) or a comparable score on the SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test), foreign students must obtain a score of 525 on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).

"We want to make sure these students have the competency in the English language to satisfactorily complete their work and will not create a situation which might hold a class back due to their incompetency in English," said W.M. Shoemaker of Meridian, chairman of the Instruction, Administration, and Policy Committee of the Board.

Separate requirements were set for individual institutions.

Jackson State and Mississippi Valley will require a minimum of 10 on the ACT. Delta State, Mississippi State, MUW, USM, and Ole Miss will require a minimum of 15. Alcorn State will require a minimum score of 13 on the ACT.

In terms of special considerations, Alcorn may, in addition to the composite of 13 on the ACT, enroll five percent of the previous year's freshman class enrollees to accommodate talented and-or high risk students with an ACT composite score of nine. Delta State, Mississippi State, MUW, USM, and Ole Miss, which require a composite score of 15, may enroll five percent of the previous year's freshman class enrollees or 50 students to accommodate talented and-or high risk students with an ACT composite score of nine and up.

A remedial program applying to all institutions stipulates that all students who score below 12 on the English and-or mathematics portion of the ACT must enter and satisfactorily complete a Board of Trustees approved developmental program in the area(s) of deficiency.

"Admission standards have been a very deep concern of the Board for quite some time because we want to make an educational experience available to all Mississippians who exhibit the capabilities to perform in a satisfactory manner," Shoemaker said.

Investment credit benefits reviewed

There is no limit on the amount of new equipment that qualifies in a given year, but there is a limit of $100,000 on the purchase or used equipment that will qualify in one year.

Any taxpayer with questions on any phase of income taxes should call a local Internal Revenue Office or the toll free number in Atlanta, Georgia, - 800-241-3868.

Investment credit is one of the most important management tools that exists for income tax purposes, but is often overlooked. Many farmers and business people pay more taxes each year than they should because they do not claim investment credit on qualifying property, says Dr. Johnnie Sartor, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service agricultural economist.

If the taxpayer acquired new or used tangible, depreciable property to use in his business and placed the property in service during the year, he may qualify for the investment credit.

Investment credit, like all other tax credits, reduces taxes owed dollar for dollar.

For example, if the taxpayer's liability (or taxes owed) is $2,000 and the investment credit amounts to $1,500, the taxes owed are reduced to $500, explains Dr. Sartor.

If the life of the property is estimated at seven or more years, the investment credit will be 10 percent of the cost basis in the property.

With a useful life of fewer than three years, the property will not qualify for any investment credit.

With a life of three to five years one-third of the cost will qualify.

With a life of five to seven years two-thirds will qualify.

With a life of seven or more years all of the cost basis will count toward the 10 percent investment credit.

"Let's assume a farmer purchased a $20,000 tractor in January 1979 to use in his farming operation. He estimated the tractor to have a useful life of 10 years. The tractor will qualify for the full 10 percent of the purchase price toward investment credit, $2,000," says Dr. Sartor.

"If this farmer owes $2,500 in taxes, his taxes are reduced to $500. If the farmer estimates the life of the tractor to be longer than five years but fewer than seven years, the investment credit is two-thirds of $2,000, or $1,334. If he estimates the useful life at longer than three years but fewer than five years, his investment credit is one-third of the $2,000, or $666.67," Sartor states.

Qualifying property includes trucks, tractors, combines, automobiles used in business, power tools, fences used for raising livestock, paved barnyards, water wells for livestock and poultry, storage bins, purchased livestock for breeding and single purpose livestock or horticulture structural buildings. This includes pig parlors, milking parlors, poultry houses, greenhouses and other single purpose buildings.

The investment credit may not exceed the taxpayer's tax liability.

For tax year 1979, the maximum allowable credit is $25,000 plus 60 percent of the taxpayer's liability above $25,000 (for married couples filing jointly).

Investment credit not used the year of purchase may be carried back three years and then forward seven years. Use Form 3468 to calculate investment credit.

New and-or used equipment qualifies for investment credit.

1980 VA checks up 9.9 percent

Checks reflecting a 9.9 percent increase in Veterans Administration compensation payments were mailed at the end of December to more than two-and-a-quarter million veterans, 235,000 surviving spouses and more than 85,000 children of deceased veterans J.L. Warnock, Jackson VA Center director, reported.

The increased payments were authorized by Congress and were signed into law by President Carter November 28. They are retroactive to October 1.

A separate adjustment check covering the increased amount due in November and December was mailed during the latter part of December.

The new rates mean that a veteran with a service connected disability rated at 10 percent will receive $48 a month, up from $44. The rate for a 50 percent disability goes from $232 monthly to $255, and a veteran with a 100 percent disability will receive $889 monthly, an increase of $80. Additional amounts providing up to a maximum payment of $2,536 a month are paid for specific severe disabilities.

The new legislation also increases by 9.9 percent the added amounts paid for dependents to veterans rated 30 percent or more disabled.

The clothing allowance paid disabled veterans whose use of a prosthetic or orthopedic device wears out or damages clothing was increased from $218 to $240 yearly.

Also increased were the rates of Dependency and Indemnity Compensation paid survivors of veterans whose deaths were due to service connected causes or veterans totally disabled from service connected causes whose deaths were not the result of such disabilities.

Certain children of these deceased veterans also receive increased compensation under the new legislation. They include unmarried children under 18 as well as certain older helpless children and those between 18 and 23 who are attending VA-approved schools.

records to go through McCullough and the board before being allowed the copies.

The board policy also sets a 28 cent-per-copy price to cover paper costs, labor, and wear on the machine.

Gloria Holland of the North Bay PTO requested copies of the school districts' student activity fund journal sheets in June of last year, and that request has not yet been met by the board.

The reproduction policy requires the superintendent to decide whether the request is legitimate.

During the deposition hearings, Blessey questioned McCullough extensively on that matter.

"...Do you consider the reasons stated in the letter (from Holland) to be frivolous reasons," Blessey asked.

"I wouldn't...I would say it's not a frivolous request but I don't think...her request is a legitimate request. Now if she would say I need this for so and so and for litigation or this or that then I would think that I would move ahead," McCullough responded.

"She states in the letter that we were never advised of such projects that these (student activity) funds support...you consider that reason requesting notice of what the funds support to be a not legitimate reason," Blessey questioned.

"The...I don't know if I am answering your question or not but the records are open to the public. She had a right to come in. I recall...I now...you know, all this is striking home now...I recall Mrs. Holland coming in and speaking to me about the activity fund..." McCullough answered.

"She came in and asked me about...about the...student activity funds and I told her I said, Mrs. Holland, I will be glad to show you anything but now...but I had rather that you would at least give me a day or two and let me bring the auditor in that audited all these accounts," he added.

"In other words it is okay with you if somebody looks at those books if the auditors are present," Blessey asked.

"Right. Yes sir, that's his duty."

That's not my duty...it is not my duty to go up there and try to answer this and that because I wouldn't know how," McCullough said.

"Didn't you tell Mrs. Holland that she couldn't look at the books unless the auditors were there," Blessey asked the superintendent.

"No...no sir. I told her I said Mrs. Holland next time...when you come back I will be glad to show you anything that you would like to see just give me a couple of days. A couple of days so I can have the two auditors to come in and along with the bookkeeper. That is the only purpose I told her that," McCullough responded.

McCullough told Blessey he has not acted on Holland's request for copies of the journal sheets because "she has not made a new request for such."

McCullough did not say if the board has a policy regarding auditors and bookkeepers to be present when financial matters are investigated.

Also during the deposition hearings McCullough refuted allegations that he told the Local President of the Bay St. Louis Association of Educators that he could "have Mr. (James) Ginn straightened out in two phone calls" and that Betty Diboll "did not have any more sense than the chair she sat in."

The statements allegedly came during a discussion between McCullough and Sue Sonier, when Sonier requested to address the board.

"Do you recall telling (Sonier) not to be impressed with the two new board members," Blessey asked the superintendent.

"No sir," McCullough answered.

"Don't you remember telling her that you would have Mr. Ginn straightened out in two phone calls," the attorney asked.

"No sir," the superintendent answered.

"Don't you remember telling her that Mrs. Diboll didn't have any more sense than the chair she sat in," Blessey asked.

"No sir," McCullough replied.

"If she testified to that she would not be telling the truth," Blessey asked.

"That's not true. I don't recall making those statements," McCullough said.

"Do you remember telling her that you know I can't fire you but I can make a lot of trouble for you," Blessey questioned.

"I didn't say that. I wouldn't answer saying that she would be lying. I said I didn't make the statement...I have never threatened to fire anyone along the...the language...along the line that you are speaking of," McCullough answered.

During questioning Blessey asked McCullough about a conversation he allegedly had with PTO Member Percy McKay in which the superintendent allegedly referred to Noonan and Judy McCormick in an obscene manner and then swore at McKay.

McCullough had allegedly called McKay at 8:30 a.m. Nov. 22, 1979, criticizing McKay for writing a letter to the editor concerning placing school board dockets at the county courthouse and Bay St. Louis City Hall.

"Do you remember Mr. McKay complaining that he thought you were using language in that conversation unbecoming of the superintendent," Blessey asked during the deposition.

"Oh I, I, I was disturbed, you know it's kind of got to me when I read the letter, saying that I had not been posting the dockets. And I told him...I told him either that night or the next morning, I says, meet me down at the Courthouse. And if the dockets on...if the dockets has not been moved, and they are still there," McCullough said.

"Of course, you know, I might have been a little, a little roused up by someone reading in the paper that the docket is not being posted..." he added.

"Do you remember Mr. McKay saying he objected to your using language unbecoming of a Superintendent," Blessey asked again.

"Yeah, well I, I, we...he said, well Mr. Mac says, now let's...let's talk reasonable with this. I said okay...I'm kind of hot right now...I just don't appreciate any tactics of this nature..." McCullough responded.

The superintendent explained how he and McKay went to the courthouse that morning and found a copy of the docket posted inside the building.

McCullough also stated that he and McKay did not discuss Noonan or McCormick during that telephone call, adding that he did not refer to the ladies in any obscene manner.

McCullough allegedly used intimidation when dealing with school patrons, but refuted those claims during the deposition hearings.

During a meeting with Noonan, McCormick, and other members of the PTO, McCullough allegedly told them "I don't work for any d... PTO or the taxpayers, my check comes from the state."

"Don't you recall telling them that, that you do not work for the PTO, or the taxpayers of Bay St. Louis," Blessey questioned.

"Yes sir, I recall their meeting me out in the hall there...they came, they came, they came in. I remember...I recall now that...struck a note," the superintendent answered.

"...They started demanding that...I give them a copy of the dockets...I told them that I can't just stop my work or whatever I'm doing, coming in unannounced like this and start...producing this and that for them," he continued.

"I said now...I don't work for the PTO, I work for the School Board and they have to give me authority to move ahead with this," he added.

McCullough also denied that he swore to the contingent from the PTO.

"Didn't you also say, to Mrs. Noonan and the ladies present, quote you don't have your friends from the newspaper" here, I'll say any d... thing I want to, to you," Blessey asked.

"No, I said...I can talk with you today, we can talk free with each other. No newspapers sitting around. I didn't say no d...newspaper, no sir," the superintendent answered.

McCullough also allegedly demanded to speak to Holland alone during a conversation with Holland and Noonan, and allegedly questioned Holland about her husband and where he worked.

"Didn't you tell Mrs. Noonan and Mrs. Holland that it was your policy to have people speak to you alone when they made a request. And not have any witnesses with them," Blessey asked.

"I didn't mention anything about witness," McCullough responded.

"I said I'd like to speak to you alone, if you have a problem...I didn't mention a witness," he added.

"Okay, and then when Mrs. Holland was speaking to you alone, didn't you ask her...where her husband was employed," the attorney asked.

"Yes...to me she was a stranger in the community," McCullough replied.

"...I just more or less asked her where her husband worked...but...I've forgotten where she said," he added.

"Didn't you ask her to repeat and then fill out a card and write it down," Blessey asked.

"...I did not write that down. I might have been writing while talking to her and she might have thought that...I do that everyday! More now, than ever before...Especially when we're assigning students to a different school district," McCullough said.

"I don't know if I told Mrs. Holland or not, but they have a right to...to not answer any questions that I might ask them," he added.

McCullough allegedly told Noonan that his nephew was a high-ranking employee of International Business Machines Inc. and implied that his nephew could have an affect on Noonan's husband, also employed by IBM.

"Do you recall asking her whether her husband still works for IBM," Blessey asked.

"Yes sir, I recall that...and I recall talking to her about that. And maybe that's a habit I have. Anybody that comes in knowing Mrs. Noonan and trying to familiarize myself with graduates that's graduated under me I ask questions," McCullough answered.

"Who they married and where they are living and this and that you know. That's just a common practice but I don't know if I told her that or not," he continued.

"But generally I also...so many people I have to talk to relative to employment and where the kids...go to school and all that business and...that's just a conversation to try to become more acquainted with the people. Maybe that's a bad habit," he added.

"I do recall one conversation with her asking her I think her husband finished school under me...I was more or less familiarizing myself with her family," McCullough said.

"...You do remember telling Mrs. Noonan well I just wanted to let you know that I have a nephew with IBM and he is the manager of the entire Southern District of IBM for the United States," Blessey asked.

"Yes sir...I told her...I had a nephew working for the IBM and but now just what his particular job I couldn't tell you. But I do know he works for IBM but I think he is...moved up so to speak in the department now," McCullough stated.

"Do you recall talking to (former board member) Dr. (John) Levens in September about Mrs. Noonan," Blessey asked the superintendent.

"No sir," McCullough responded.

"Don't you remember telling Dr. Levens, 'I have taken care of (Mrs. Noonan's request to get on the agenda)...I have a nephew at IBM where her husband works...You don't recall saying that,'" Blessey questioned.

"No sir...not in the context that you are speaking of...I wouldn't resort to tactics like that whatsoever," the superintendent answered.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A report on the Turcotte and Gex depositions will continue in Sunday's Echo. Depositions taken from plaintiffs have not yet been filed in court.)

Washington Street to the street next to A-1 TV and Appliances.

Council President Pete Benvenuti made the motion stating his reasons as number one, "We must at least be able to give the people of the annexed area more services; number two, It would reduce the insurance rates for the businesses; number three, It would spur some construction and number four, It would be the first new construction in District One which is mine since we have been in office."

Mayor Larry Bennett asked the council why not have Chiniche while he is out there to make a proposal on a waterline extension from Washington to Main Street on the South side of US-90 which was also approved unanimously by the Council.

Engineer Joe Brown, III reported on progress of the 1978 Small Cities project saying it was 64 percent complete and that the contractor is past the fixed completion time of 50 calendar days. Brown recommended the Council give the contractor, Betta enterprises, an extension of only seven days which was approved.

Brown was given the go ahead with the design for the 1979 Small Cities Project as Board Attorney Joseph Gex was instructed to work on the seamless for sewer lines, in the 500 block of Main, St. John, State and deMontluzin Streets area.

Council also accepted a master plan proposal from Brown for Main Street from Beach Boulevard to St. Francis Street.

Council accepted two bids from Turan-Lane Chevrolet for trucks and took another under study.

Upon recommendation of Police Chief Douglas Williams, a bid on a police car from Turan-Lane was accepted. The price was $198 more than a bid on a Ford from Charlie Henderson.

The Chief's report stated that the Chevrolet's wheel base was two inches longer "which means a lot" and that his department "...had some very good service from previous Chevys."

A bid for an 1980 Luv pickup from Turan-Lane was accepted for the Public Grounds Department.

Bids for a Utility Department truck were to be further studied.

Dr. Michael Smith, president of Advanced Developments, Inc., presented the Council the 1978 Utility Assessment Report.

Council was unanimous for the mayor, council members, city clerk and board attorney attending the Municipal Convention in Jackson this month.

"Mississippi Agriculture had a bountiful year in 1979," said Jim Buck Ross, commissioner of agriculture and commerce.

According to Ross, one of the many contributing factors was successful movement of the state's soybean crop.

The soybean crop for 1979, as of December 1, was bushels. This was a record 26 bushels average per acre which was up about 5 bushels above the 1977 and 1978 crop.

Cotton yield was also increased in 1979 over the preceding years, even though the crop was extremely late.

Despite the high cost of fuel, the low maximum weight limit over our highways and the problems faced by our railroad system, the soybean crop was harvested, stored and shipped without causing serious economic loss to any segment of the industry.

"Credit is due to many people, government institutions and businesses for helping this take place in an orderly fashion: our railroads, truckers, boards of supervisors, motor vehicle controller, county and terminal elevators, oil mills, ports, and thousands of individual soybean farmers all worked together," said Ross.

Brownbuilder Jesse Lewis is working for you in Mississippi

Jesse Lewis, from Gautier, is a Mississippi Brownbuilder—one of the men and women of Brown & Root—working for you in Mississippi. Jesse joined Brown & Root in 1976 working as an electrician helper, and is now electrical foreman. He and his wife, Shirley, have a son and two daughters. Jesse counts fishing and basketball among his favorite sports.

Mississippi Brownbuilders like Jesse are working for you and thousands of your neighbors. He's helping to build the hardware, such as oil fields and power plants, which will help insure Mississippi's future growth and prosperity.

Because of Brown & Root's policy of hiring locally first, most of our Brownbuilders here are Mississippi natives or longtime residents. Many of them first joined Brown & Root at project personnel offices near their homes. And, Brown & Root hires and promotes solely on the basis of individual ability and merit. Anyone willing and qualified is eligible to work. That way, local communities, counties and the state get maximum benefit from projects on which we work—hundreds of thousands of dollars in purchases, payrolls, savings and taxes.

$1.6 billion federal supplement to aid needy

Approximately 4900 residents of the area serviced by the Gulfport District Social Security Office who get Federal supplemental security income (SSI) payments will receive an extra $41.00 in early January to help pay higher oil, gas or electric bills this winter. The extra check is in addition to the regular monthly SSI payment, according to William Gladden, social security manager in Gulfport.

Most SSI recipients who received checks for December are eligible for the special energy check. SSI recipients living in Nursing Homes where Medicaid pays the majority of the cost will not receive a special energy assistance check since it is unlikely they will have to pay for an increased energy cost, Gladden said.

People who received a December SSI check but do not get a special energy assistance check by January 15 should contact the Gulfport social security office. This is especially true for SSI recipients who have their checks sent directly to the bank and may not have kept social security informed of their current mailing address.

All special energy checks are being mailed to the homes of SSI recipients, including those where their checks usually go to a bank. The total cost of the special energy assistance payments program throughout the country, including the special checks to SSI recipients and grants to the States to help people with special emergency fuel or other energy related situations, is $1.6 billion, according to Gladden.

Of that, $400 million is being sent to SSI recipients, $400 million is allocated to the Community Service Administration, including $250 million previously allocated, for the Energy Crisis Assistance Program, and $800 million is being given the States in block grants. Mississippi's grant is 4.6 million dollars.

The special energy check for each SSI recipient in Mississippi will be $41.00. The amounts vary from State-to-

State, however, ranging from $34 in Hawaii to $250 in eleven States.

The individual State amounts are determined by a 3-part formula which takes into account local weather conditions, the number of SSI recipients in the State and certain energy consumption statistics for the State.

Grant represents PRC at meeting

John Grant Jr., science and physics instructor here at Pearl River College is a member of the Executive Committee of the Mississippi Association of Physicists.

Grant was elected to the post last year and recently represented Pearl River at the fall meeting of the Mississippi Section of the American Association of Physics Teachers held at the University of Mississippi at Oxford.

The Mississippi Section of the AAPT purpose is to promote excellence in physics in Mississippi. Every physicist, physics teacher and physical scientist in Mississippi is eligible for membership and students are eligible for associate membership.

MAP has held its meetings at junior colleges and colleges throughout the state and has held special meetings at the Waterways Experiment Station, the Grand Gulf Nuclear Plant and the Naval Oceanographic Research Laboratory.

Grant said activities at the meetings have included discussions of teaching curricula and equipment, presentations of physics demonstrations, visiting lecture demonstrations of nuclear power and solar energy and discussions of research activities within the state.

The Mississippi Section presents and award each year, to the Outstanding High School Physics Teacher in Mississippi. In 1978, while teaching at Poplarville High School, Grant received the coveted award.

Grant joined the staff of Pearl River College this past summer taking the place of his father, John Grant, who retired after the 1979 spring semester.

Grant said the fall conference of MAP was centered around computer assisted instruction. Minicomputers and computers based exercises, using graphics for physics courses, were demonstrated.

United Gas Pipe Line refunds $165 million

United Gas Pipe Line Company, the interstate natural gas pipeline subsidiary of United Energy Resources, Inc., announced today that it is making refunds of approximately $165,000,000 to its jurisdictional customers.

These refunds, which are tax deductible, are being made pursuant to two rate settlement agreements proposed by United Gas and approved by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

The Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's orders approving the settlements were recently appealed by an intervenor in the cases to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit.

United Gas indicated that it had previously established reserves sufficient to provide for the full impact on net income of the refunds under the agreements.

Other subsidiaries of United Energy Resources include United Texas Transmission Company (intrastate natural gas transmission), Cotton Petroleum Corporation (oil and gas exploration, production and development), PetroUnited, Inc. (hydrocarbons terminaling and trading), Enertrade AG (international hydrocarbons trading) and other companies engaged primarily in energy related enterprises.

Military Mention

PVT. STONE
Pvt. Walter L. Stone III, whose parents live at 7 Whispering Branch, Route 1, Diamondhead, Bay St. Louis, Miss., recently completed a wheeled-vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Training Center, Fort Dix, N.J.

During the course, students were trained to perform maintenance and assist in the repair of automotive vehicles and associated equipment. They became familiar with the functioning of automotive wheeled-vehicle components, operating principles of internal combustion engines, fundamentals of fuel and electrical systems, and the use of organizational and test equipment.

PVT. DAVIS
Pvt. Horace G. Davis, son of Mrs. Ruth Davis, Pearlton, Miss., recently completed training as an armor reconnaissance specialist under the One Station Unit Training (OSUT) Program at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

OSUT is a 13-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

Students received instruction in the use of various kinds of weapons, maintenance of armor vehicles, map reading, communications, artillery adjustments, and mines and demolitions.

Davis' father, Horace G. Davis, Jr., also lives in Pearlton.

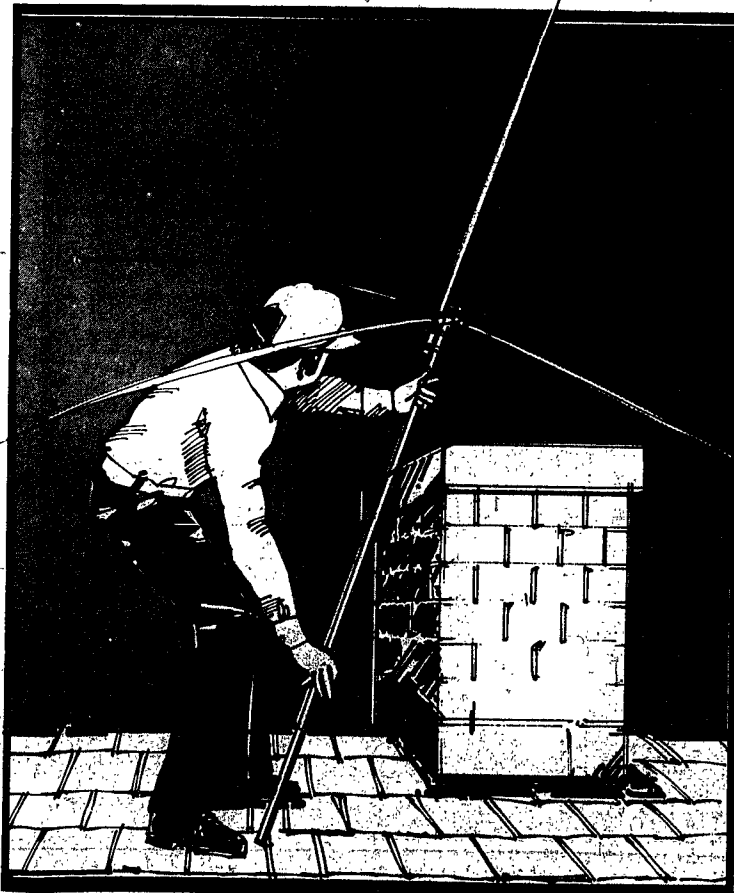

A SAFETY Reminder. . . .

If Santa "filled your stocking" this Christmas with a CB (or TV) antenna, we offer this word of caution about installation. First, we suggest you have a professional do it for you. However, if you're determined to do it yourself, look out for power lines.

Then make sure you locate your antenna (including supporting mast and guy wires) at least one and a half times its total height from all power lines. For example, a 30-foot high antenna should be 45 feet away from all power lines in all directions. If it falls during installation, or gets blown down during a storm, it won't hit any lines and endanger you or your neighbors.

Finally, remember that the slightest contact between you, your antenna and our lines could be fatal. So please be careful.

The fine cooks of Europe are often amazed at the way so many of us in America turn up our culinary noses at the variety meats - liver, kidneys and so on, for many a world famed Old World masterpiece is concocted from the organ meats.

I well remember, as a child, it took me a long time to get used to the Irish steak and kidney pie which so delighted visiting relatives, but when I did - mmm!

My father used to like lamb kidneys, sliced thinner than thin, then plopped into a very hot pan in which butter had been melted. The he'd salt and pepper the slices, fry - rather, saute - quickly on each side, before adding a generous jigger of cognac, which he promptly set aflame in the pan.

Then he brought the pan and its contents, still flaming, to the table. Another of his favorites is:

KIDNEYS FLAMBES.
JACK DAILY FASHION
¾ KIDNEYS, LAMB
PREFERABLY
½ TBSP BUTTER OR MARGARINE
½ cup sliced mushrooms

2 tsp. chopped shallots or green shallots or green onions
½ cup brandy, warmed
Dash (about ¼ tsp.) dry mustard
¾ cup sour cream
Salt, pepper, hot pepper sauce to your taste

Remove the fat and membrane from the kidneys and slice thin. Beat the butter, and add the kidney slices, mushrooms and onions, sauteing the mixture until the kidneys are a delicate brown.

Add the the warmed brandy and set the mixture afire, stirring as you go. Sprinkle the salt, pepper and hot sauce over as the flame dies out. Then stir in the mustard and sour cream, stirring well until blended. Serve over toast points or rice.

Still another favorite is chicken livers and kidneys. Slice kidneys thin, then flour the slices as well as the livers. Saute in butter, and when almost brown, toss in shallots and mushrooms, along with a cup of chicken broth and a splash of red wine, and simmer several minutes or so.

Lost documents no bar to VA benefits

"Don't let lost documents prevent you from seeking veterans benefits," urges Mike Ladner, VA service officer in Hancock County. Ladner said, "We have found that some veterans who cannot locate birth or marriage certificates don't apply for benefits because they believe these documents are essential." VA will accept a certified statement instead of an original birth or marriage certificate when needed to establish eligibility, provided in the case of a marriage - that it is the first for each partner and VA has no contradictory information on file. In years past, VA required formal documentation to support claims for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children. Now, however, VA will accept a certified statement regarding the birth of a veteran's child or as proof of age and relationship in disability cases, Ladner said. Warnock, urged that their dependents with eligibility questions to contact the nearest VA regional office or a representative of one of the national veterans service organization.

South Central Bell opens service center

South Central Bell has established here on the Coast a new centralized business office-called a Business Service Center-to handle exclusively the needs of the company's business customers in South Mississippi.

"The Business Service Center is staffed with skilled personnel specializing in business telephone equipment and services," said Franklin Kyle, Jr., district manager for the telephone company.

Kyle said the centralized business center can more efficiently handle both service and billing matters for business customers.

"South Central Bell designed the new center to be customer-oriented," Kyle said. "The center brings together business service representatives and marketing sales specialists who use a team approach to meeting business customers' needs."

"Not only do our service representatives and marketing specialists handle business telephone service exclusively," Kyle said, "but marketing representatives are further specialized to handle the needs of a particular segment within a business or industry."

Kyle said business telephone customers will receive better service from South Central Bell's new BSC organization, and the telephone company will also benefit through improved productivity.

In addition to the Mississippi Coast area the BSC will serve business customers in McComb, Columbia, Hattiesburg, Laurel, Natchez, Woodville, Crystal Springs, Hazelhurst, Brookhaven, Mendenhall, Magee, Wiggins and Lucedale areas of South Mississippi.

January garden guide offers winter tips

January is a cold, wet, disagreeable month for gardeners. You will have to pick favorable days for the things that have to be done. For help in choosing plants for spring planting send for the new free seed catalogs. Catalogs let you see what the choices are and introduce and describe new items. Loose no time in sending in your seed orders.

Don't play your live Christmas tree. Many trees sold as living Christmas trees can tolerate the heat and dryness of homes for two or three weeks, but none can be considered an indoor plant.

Continue to plant or transplant bare root roses, shrubs, ornamental trees and fruit trees; also balled and burlapped evergreens of all kinds.

Azaleas and camellias may be planted now also; you do not have to wait until they are in bloom. They will go into their first season with a much better root system if planted early. However, if you do not know what you want, you had better wait and see the plants in bloom before buying.

Use a dormant oil spray now or next month on fruit trees as well as ornamental trees and shrubs that are infested with scale insects and aphid and mite eggs. For best results, spray when daytime temperatures are between 40 and 70 degrees.

To protect a newly transplanted tree, tie it loosely to a well-anchored stake before the spring winds have a chance to blow it off-center and disturb the newly developing root system. Wrap the trunk with tree-wrap paper to prevent insect infestation and sunscald damage.

Most houseplants need weekly watering and monthly fertilizing during winter. Provide good light and keep plants out of drafts. Spray the foliage of kinds that are not very hairy with clear water from an atomizer syringe once or twice a day.

If you potted bulbs last fall, now's the time to bring them indoors to force them into bloom. Place pots in a window that receives direct sunlight for at least a few hours each day. Allow soil to dry partially between waterings.

Spring flowering shrubs and trees can be enjoyed even in the middle of winter. Branches of forsythia, quince, pussy willow, spirea and crabapple are easy to force into bloom by bringing them into a warm room. Crush the base of the stem with a hammer and place in a vase of warm water. Change water ever four to six days. Forcing time will usually be from one to two weeks.

When conditions permit, prepare flowerbeds for later planting. Turn soil deeply, and add humus or peat moss and liberal amounts of well-rotted manure. Winter rains will soak the soil and get it in better condition for good plant growth in the spring.

Clean and oil your garden tools in preparation for spring activity. Remove rust with sandpaper and wipe all metal parts with oil.

B. M. Attigney, Arno Leshin, Leon Barnett and Bob Solomon comprised the winning foursome in the MGA tourney.

Individual low scorers were Jim Dilts-first; Bob Solomon-second and Arno Leshin-third.

Soybean Day set at MSU

The 16th annual Soybean Day will be conducted at Mississippi State University (MSU) Jan. 23.

The day-long meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m., and will be held in the Extension Service Conference Center. About 700 soybean farmers and others interested in the soybean industry are expected to attend.

Program emphasis will be on the outlook for soybeans in 1980, plus production ideas on new cultural and chemical practices, according to Dr. Wayne Jordan, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service (MCES) soybean specialist.

"Commissioner" of Agriculture Jim Ross will be the keynote speaker. He will give the outlook for Mississippi agriculture and explain where soybeans fit into the picture," says Dr. Jordan.

Tom Madden, vice president, E.F. Hutton, Chicago, Ill., will give the market outlook. Mike Phillips, European Division manager, American Soybean Association, will discuss efforts to increase sales of soybeans overseas.

An in-depth look will be taken at new planting equipment available for planting soybeans in very narrow rows with planters and grain drills. R.I. Throckmorton, supervisor for Product Research, International Harvester Company, Chicago, Ill., will present new developments from the major equipment companies.

There will be a short annual business meeting of the Mississippi Soybean Association (MSA) and a report of the 1 cent per bushel checkoff program, adds jdr. Jordan.

All persons interested in soybeans are invited to attend the meeting, which is jointly sponsored by MCES and MSA.

Because of the growing interest in various row spacings and planting dates, the most recent Mississippi research on these topics will

Orease Ladner named to ASC committee

Orease P. Ladner, a well-known Hancock County farmer, was named to the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee by delegates to the county ASC Convention, held December 13, in the Pearl River-Hancock County ASCS Office, Poplarville, the ASCS reported.

The delegates also elected James L. Cuevas and Forest M. Lee as first and second alternates to the committee.

The county ASC committee is responsible for local administration of government farm programs such as Price Support, Commodity Loans, Farm Storage and Drying Equipment Loans, Compliance, Production Adjustment, Agricultural Conservation, Forestry Incentive, Wool, and Emergency Feed Programs.

James O. Ladner and Ben S. Moody, Pearl River County farmers, were also named to the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee by delegates to the county ASC convention. The delegates also elected L.D. Davis and L. Wayne Stewart as first and second alternates to the committee.

Below normal temperatures

Mississippi should experience below normal temperatures in January, according to the National Weather Service Outlook distributed by the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

The outlook also predicts drier than usual conditions for north Mississippi while wet weather is expected to prevail in the south, say agrometeorologists at the Environmental Studies Service Center in Stoneville who prepare the report.

Winter calving begins in many areas of Mississippi in January. Cattlemen should pay special attention to heavy springer and newborn calves to minimize losses. This is especially true for heifers with first calves.

Pastures will grow lowly in the cold period, but good hay supplies are adequate. Extension specialists recommend the use of high energy feed for cattle.

Cattlemen the feed intake with salt. However, salt toxicity may develop unless cattle have access to water. Extra effort must be made to keep ponds and tanks free of ice.

Poultry producers will pay higher heating bills for broiler houses. Producers will need to keep close watch on weather conditions and make curtain and heating adjustments to lessen chill stress on flocks and to save fuel.

Cold snaps may be frequent, and afternoon highs normally south. Morning temperatures are normally around freezing in the north and upper 30s in the south.

Little field work will be done since good drying days will be scarce. About four inches of precipitation usually fall in January.

USM ski trip vacancies told

There's still time to reserve a spot on the sixth annual "Ski Vail" trip scheduled for March 8-15 by the University of Southern Mississippi, according to a university spokesman.

Vail has something for everyone from the novice to the expert, entire family or single, skier or no skier. Vail offers an average annual snowfall of 318 inches, an old-world atmosphere and lots of shops, boutiques and restaurants, the tour sponsors said.

Persons interested in joining the USM trip to Vail should contact Joe Cracraft, department of physical education, Southern Station, Box 8172, Hattiesburg, 39401.

MEETING THE GAS SHORTAGE A LONG TRADITION OF SERVICE

United Gas has a long tradition of meeting problems head-on.

And an even longer tradition of service to the Gulf South.

In the early 40's it pioneered new techniques in bringing gas transmission lines through marshes and across rivers and lakes. It laid down a vast delivery system that formed the base for the Gulf South's industrial expansion.

During the seventies, United Gas was affected by a shortage of natural gas on its system, just as were all major interstate pipelines in the United States. Despite United's on-going program to add new reserves to its system, the problem persisted throughout most of the decade.

Today, availability of natural gas is improving. More is coming ashore from the prolific Gulf. Future supplements to United's supplies lie in other areas of the lower 48 states and in Alaska, Canada and Mexico.

And just as important, because of Congressional action, producers of natural gas are now permitted to charge higher, market-oriented prices for gas delivered into interstate commerce. Because of this new incentive more gas is expected to be available to pipelines like United Gas.

The company's vast gas acquisition effort is another chapter in the story of its commitment to the Gulf South. Today this commitment is stronger than ever.

24. In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Mrs. Katie D. Luc Born Jan. 12, 1890 Died Jan. 13, 1979 I cannot say, and I will not say. That she is dead - she is just away Wit a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand, She has wandered into an unknown land, and left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since she lingers there. And you-Oh you, who the wildest year For the old time step and glad return, Think of her faring on, ad dear In the love of There as the love of Here Think of her as still the same, I say: She is not dead - She is just away! We love and miss you, Florence, Gerard, Children and Families.
